Prevent Headache

We want you to know that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills prevent as well as relieve headache, and that they leave no bad after-effects. We assure you that if taken when you first discover indications of an attack, they will drive it away, and thus not only save you the misery and distress, but the weakening influence of pain upon your system. Used in this way the attacks become less frequent, and eventually entirely disappear. They relieve pain by strengthening the nerves and overcoming the turbulent, excited condition, which is the cause of pain. "We used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in our family for five years, and I would not like to do without them. Before I found this remedy I would have spells of sick headache so severe that I would be prostrated for as many as 48 hours at a time. The Anti-Pain Pills stop the pain in a few minutes, have a great deal of neuralgia around the heart, and the Pain Pills also relieve that. I now take them when I think I will have an attack, and they stop it right then. I also notice that I do not have these spells nearly so frequently as formerly."

HOW WEST POINT HAS GROWN AND THOSE WHO HAVE MADE THE PLACE

VIEW OF THE BUSINESS SECTION OF WEST POINT.

The article concerning the earlier days of West Point closed last week with what happened "Endurin' of the War." In 1855 the West Point Land Company was chartered, and purchased from Wm. P. Taylor, Esq., the present site of the town. Then the town was a part of the old Taylor farm, and the negro quarters of the farm were situated here. Mr. Wm. Z. Penny, a resident of King William county, near Churchville, was the superintendent of the farm. He used to tell many amusing incidents which occurred here while he was in authority. The Land Company had this tract divided into lots and laid off into streets. Mr. James M. Daniel, of Richmond, was the engineer who performed this work. Mr. Alexander Dudley, a prominent lawyer of King and Queen county, was prominent in getting up this company and was its first president. "The Richmond and York River Railroad first ran its line to West Point in 1858, locating its depot on the Mattaponi River, just opposite Dudley's Ferry, between King and Queen and West Point. When the Civil War was declared, however, the bridge across the Pamunkey River, at "White House," was destroyed and the trains, not able to cross, stopped there. The line was not re-established to West Point until 1868, when the depot was established on the Pamunkey River on the present site. The York River Line of steamers was established from Baltimore in 1857. The boats, Kennebec and The Admiral, used to run up the Pamunkey River to "White House" and the railroad track was completed to West Point. In 1857 a line was also established from Norfolk. The steamer Mystic used to also run to "White House."

Became a Town.

West Point became a town on the 11th day of July, 1870. The Legislature of Virginia granted a charter of incorporation to the town of West Point, giving the people the full rights and privileges of a town.

Mr. E. W. Massie, a resident then of the town, and at that time a member of the Virginia Senate, was instrumental in getting the charter granted.

Under this charter, on the 3d day of September, 1870, an election was held for municipal officers, in which there were about forty votes cast, which resulted in the election of the following officers:

Mayor—John Whitbeck.
Councilmen—E. W. Massie, Wm. E. Hart, Holliver Stark, C. T. Whiting and A. T. Cavan.

Mr. Hansford Anderson, the present postmaster, was duly appointed sergeant by the council at the first meeting.

The first police force that West Point had consisted of one man, George Musie, as black as ebony. He was noted and prominent for driving two little mules and was a terror to all evil-doers, black and white. He was proud of his trust and always defended the dignity of his office. He held "that public office is a public trust," and would not let it perform the duties of his office, being always found in the "thick end of the fray." His salary was the sum of $1 for each offender he arrested.

He tackled a lot of rampant excursionists on one occasion, who had come down from Richmond, and undertook to arrest one of the number for some offence, whereupon the crowd set upon him and began to break pop-bottles over his head. The police made little impression and he brought his offender to justice.

In 1872 the council had two colored members, Beverly Allen (now living) and the well known George Washington (deceased), of restaurant fame.

Charter Made Broader.

On the 2d day of May, 1887, the charter of the town was amended by the Legislature, giving the council additional powers and enlarging the privileges of the town authorities. The number of councilmen was increased from five to seven; the offices of treasurer, town attorney and town clerk were created.

Mr. B. W. Jefferson was the town's first treasurer. Mr. Thos. P. Busby was the town's first attorney; Mr. Isaac Diggs was the town's first clerk. Mr. S. H. Donahoe, of the Fairfax Herald, and member of the Virginia Senate, founded the first newspaper, "The West Point Star," in 1876. Many of the old landmarks have been swept away by fire, but nothing daunted, West Point has risen again and again from her ashes and her misfortunes and to-day is on a better and firmer basis than ever before.

Passing Away.

The annual reunion of the old soldiers, whether Northern or Southern, are characterized by undiminished enthusiasm, and enormous crowds attend though the number of those who participated in the great war is constantly diminishing. These reunions are valuable to the whole country in calling to mind things worth remembering. The things worth forgetting have already been forgotten.

The veteran element is now a very small one in the population of this country. The South sent into the war 600,000 men. Of these not more than 450,000 survived it. The North put 2,700,000 soldiers into the field from first to last. Of these probably 2,500,000 were alive at the close of the war.

Accepting these figures as correct and estimating the average age of the survivors at 25 years, making no allowance for shattered health, life insurance figures would indicate the following as the number alive now and at the end of the ten-year period hereafter:

Year.	Per cent.	Southern.	Northern.
1904	60	67	238,015
1916	24	59	112,005
1926	4	60	20,700
1936	0	5	225

The old soldiers constitute only about five per cent. of the voting population of the South and about thirteen per cent. of the voting population of the North. Ten years hence this will be reduced to two and five per cent., respectively, and twenty years hence it will be less than one-third of one per cent. In the South and less than one per cent. in the North.

The old soldiers are going gradually, but what they did will not go. It will always remain a cause for honest pride and an inspiration for manliness.—Florida Times-Union.

The Owls Begin to Hoot.

The patrons of the Main Street owl car raised a howl a few days ago and notified the authorities that things were not running smoothly.

For several nights past, as the clock begins to point the hour of half-after two in the wee small hours, the west-going car has been held up at Jefferson and Main by the presence of a big beam across the tracks. The car could not pass, and had to retreat to Eighth Street and go up to Broad and west to Harrison, causing some delay to the patrons of said "owl."

The beams are used in the construction of the new Jefferson annex, and are only brought out for use in the early hours when the owls are awake and hooting.

The howl from the patrons has not been at all boisterous, and it is thought that the inconvenience will soon be removed.

SQUIRE ANGLE PRESIDES.

Passes Judgment on a Few Offenders Against Peace.

The white man named Buck Stallins, alias Fayette Stallins, who was arrested by Constable Burch on the charge of bigamy, was up for trial before "Squire Angle," of the county, yesterday. He was fined $100, and in default of same was sent on to jail.

The prisoner pleaded guilty and acknowledged that he had a wife and child living in Durham, N. C.

A white hobo named William Edward was fined $2.50 for trespass, and a negro named Joe White was put in the lock-up as being a suspicious character.

Man Still Missing.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DANVILLE, VA., April 28.—Mr. L. W. Yates has returned from a trip to Reidsville and vicinity, where he went in search of his son, Robert W. Yates, who has been missing since Friday, April 13th. The missing man is about thirty years of age and started from his home, en route to Stockland, where he was to have visited his sister. While en route it is supposed that he lost his mind and since that time has been wandering aimlessly through the country. He was walking along the public roads at a number of points near Reidsville, N. C., but the search instituted by his father and friends has proven of no avail.

YOUNG MEN PRESENT TOKEN TO DR. JONES

Is Given Handsome Travelling Bag By Young Men's Club.

In the regular meeting of the Men's Christian Club of Leigh Street Baptist Church Friday evening, Rev. M. Ashby Jones, the retiring pastor of Leigh Street Baptist Church, presented Miss Helen Fleet, a member of the auxiliary with a beautiful gold brooch in behalf of the club in token of the high esteem and regard in which the organization holds her.

The presentation came as quite a surprise to the young lady, and she accepted the gift in some embarrassment.

Towards the conclusion of the exercises Mr. Cottrell was called upon to make some remarks in view of Dr. Jones's departure from the church. Mr. Cottrell spoke of the regard in which Dr. Jones is held by the members of the club, and said that he hoped that he would always keep a grip on them. He then presented him with a handsome travelling bag, on which was inscribed the words: "Leigh Street Baptist Church, Richmond, Va." Dr. Jones was much surprised, but responded to Mr. Cottrell's remarks in a very feeling and touching manner, expressing his regard for the men of the church and club, and his high appreciation of their lives and work during his pastorate.
